

Are You Considering Collegiate Ministry?

Max Barnett

I. Introduction.

A. Text: Psalm 32:8

B. A person must leave off the qualifications when asking God what He wants him to do.

II. The college campus is a great place for ministry.

A. People are the same age.

B. College students are the most available people to meet with.

C. There is opportunity to get with students in small groups.

D. There is opportunity to design programs specific to the needs of college students.

E. Students have an opportunity to get to know Christ when they get away from home.

F. Everyone is affected by the university, so it is a great place to do ministry.

III. The joy of raising support. A person learns something by trusting God.

IV. Counsel.

A. It may be good to go to a different campus than from the one a person graduated.

B. It may be good to work in the workplace before committing to collegiate ministry.

C. Keep praying for God to guide a person where one can be effective, not only where one can have a career.

Application questions:

1. Which reason for campus ministry stood out to you the most? What struck you about it?

2. Why might it be better to go to a different campus than from the one that a person graduated?

3. What are some other reasons the college campus is a great place for ministry that the speaker may not have mentioned?
