

Call to Discipleship

Max Barnett

I. Introduction.

- A. There is a correlation between understanding our times and knowing what to do.
- B. Society is on the decline marked by an increase in television watching, a decrease in mothers in the home, curse words on television, divorce, etc.

II. We have to understand our society in order to have a discipleship impact on them.

- A. We must learn the language of the people. (Acts 17:17)
- B. We are to have a ministry in the church and the world where a person lives and works.

III. We have to be better equipped for problems that the church is facing.

IV. We have to evangelize more and in a relational manner.

Application questions:

1. What aspects of decline can you recognize in your own culture? Explain.

2. What is an example of how understanding one's society can help a person have an impact on it?

3. What are some problems that the church is facing today that it needs better equipping in? Explain.
